

ARTICLE

Advertisement

Meloto not founder of Gawad Kalinga

First posted 00:24:10 (Mla time) February 06, 2007
Inquirer

IN THE Inquirer editorial of Jan. 31, titled "Solidarity," Tony Meloto was referred to as the founder of Gawad Kalinga. This simply is untrue. Meloto is the executive director and not the founder of Gawad Kalinga.

Gawad Kalinga is the social arm of the Couples for Christ. Nowhere did the Inquirer mention the Couples for Christ in the editorial. It is unfair to the millions of members of the Couples for Christ, both in the Philippines and in the diaspora, that their hard work is credited to only one man and not to them. Gawad Kalinga is the fruit of their "bayanihan" [community collaboration] spirit, and all honor and glory belongs to God alone.

A correction is long overdue.

SANDRA SOTTO, New York City (via e-mail)

Copyright INQUIRER.net. All rights reserved. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed.